Therap 5.2 Released!

More features, more efficient, more useful...

Version 5.2 of Therap applications was released online this September. The new Therap 5.2 features a number of enhancements to its suite of online applications.

Major upgrades in 5.2 include the extension of the Export to Excel option to all search results pages. You can now export all search results to Microsoft Excel spreadsheets. The Export to Excel feature has been further improved for T-Logs and Health Tracking search pages so that the exported data include some additional fields like description and comments, which are not displayed on the search results page on the spreadsheets.

Health Tracking Detailed Report

One other important upgrade in Therap 5.2 is the Health Tracking archive data option. Now, when a Health Tracking form is updated, the old data automatically find their way to the archives. Other enhancements made include the enhanced PDF versions of Incident Report state forms for Montana and New York users, patches and updates for minor bugs reported in earlier versions and minor changes to existing forms.

We are now working very hard on Release 6.0 of Individual Supports. This next big release is going to showcase a number of new application modules as well as major upgrades to its existing suite of applications.

A letter from a Therap User

Bob Doede, Sunny Oaks, Salem Oregon

Every two months, we review every Incident Report we have written in a committee of company members and community partners. This is usually a laborious process, lasting at least two hours. We have had to make twelve copies of about 150 reports each time, one set for each committee member.

Of course, we do not make the copies anymore. The committee members can review the upcoming reports anytime, by logging onto Therap. At the meeting, we log on to Therap and project each report on a large screen in our conference room while the committee reviews it. No paper changes hands.

We had an unusually large number of reports this time, 190. The meeting took only 45 minutes. When I asked our Executive Director how it went, she said, and I quote, "Everybody loves Therap."

I thought you'd like to hear.

Yours,
Bob Doede

Log reports from T-Log search results

Just 'Export to Excel'

If you are a nurse or a supervisor then you probably have to prepare monthly or quarterly reports.

Think about going through piles of files, lists and log books to find all log entries, think about the time spent on looking them up to find out what they are about and finally think about the amount of work you have to put in to sum them all up into a monthly or quarterly report. Wouldn't you like it if there was an easier way?

Using the T-Log search option you can produce monthly and quarterly reports based on T-Logs within a few clicks. Use the T-Log search option to find all the appropriate log entries made within a particular period. The logs will be listed on the T-Log Search Results page. To prepare the monthly/quarterly report, just click on the Export to Excel link at the bottom of this page. This will export not only the information shown in the search results but also the descriptions of these entries. So, when you export your T-Log search results for a particular period of time, you will actually get a report that you can present in a meeting or keep as a record.

Q: How do I get help with Therap applications?

A: Therap Services offers a number of helpful services so that you feel completely at ease with the system. The Therap user guide and FAQs are a good place to start. You will find links to the user guide at the bottom of every Therap application page. You will also find links to the user guide and FAQs in the help area on your FirstPage.

The feedback link at the bottom of every Therap application page lets you send a feedback directly to Therap Customer Support while using the system. You will receive a response to your query within 24 hours. If this feedback needs to include Protected Health Information (PHI), please use Secure Communications and choose type "Therap Customer Support".

Therap Services also offers a range of online training classes, free of charge, as a part of its services. You can sign up for one of these classes at www.therapservices.net/training.

Another exciting help option of the Therap System is the Therap Wiki. The wiki is a very powerful reference tool created and maintained by Therap users themselves. Please visit www.therapservices.net/wiki to find out more on Therap Wiki.

We have also prepared a number of animated tutorials on particular Therap modules to help you get started. You can access these by clicking on the Tutorial link on the user guide.

Therap Services

Upcoming Conferences and Presentations

Therap Services attends conferences of the Developmental Disability community all around the country. This keeps the Therap team updated about recent developments in the developmental disability field and gives them the chance to get better acquainted with the leading agencies working to achieve best practices.

You can meet the Therap team members at these conferences. The Therap team will present the Therap system for you and tell you all about different Therap products. You will even set you up trial accounts so that you can find out for yourself how this solution can work for you.

Please check out the conference schedule at www.therapservices.net/events.php. Find out which is the next one taking place near you and make plans to attend. Not only will you get to meet the Therap team, but you will also have the chance to meet others working in the field.

Please let us know if you are coming to a conference and we will make time to give you a presentation.
