Disclaimer

Any information, support services or advice related to functionality of Therap Services’ products is for general guidance only. Care providers are expected to know the procedures, practices and terminology required to provide care for the individuals they serve.

Using Therap should neither circumvent nor take precedence over required care, nor should it impede the human intervention of care providers in a manner that would have a negative impact on any individual’s well being.

Seek professional advice on specific issues and their impact regarding any individual or entity. No liability can be accepted for any errors or omissions or for any person acting or refraining from acting on the information provided in these materials and/or presentations.

Any discussion of future functionality is intended for informational purposes only. It is not a commitment to deliver any material, code, or functionality, nor should it be relied upon in making purchasing decisions. The development, release, and timing of any features or functionality described is at the sole discretion of Therap.
Therap Services, LLC (hereinafter “Therap”), through the expenditure of great effort and financial resources over a period of many years, has developed and continues to expand and improve its unique services and expertise in the field of maintenance of electronic health records for individuals with developmental disabilities. Therap hereby gives notice that it retains its exclusive rights and ownership over all of its proprietary know-how and information, whether patentable or unpatentable and whether already developed or only proposed, and in any other trade secrets or nonpublic technological or business information (whether or not reduced to writing or other tangible form).

More particularly, by way of example and not by way of limitation, Therap retains its proprietary rights in all of its know-how, computer programs, source code, object code, models, research and development, and other information of a similar nature, and confidential commercial information including, but not limited to, business plans, concepts, ideas and proposals, business names, lists of proposed or existing clients or customers, advertising, data, documentation, diagrams, flow charts, processes, procedures, new products, new services, prototypes, marketing techniques, research materials, timetables and strategies, suppliers, and other information related to clients, customers, suppliers or personnel, pricing and pricing policies and financial information.
